

Renowned surgeon joins SMMC.

Lori Alvord, MD, Surgeon

- 20+ years of experience in general surgery
- Educated at Dartmouth College and Stanford University
- Assistant Professor of Surgery and Psychiatry at Dartmouth Medical School
- Associate Faculty at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health
- Training in Psychotherapy at Boston Psychoanalytic Institute
- On the faculty of the Dartmouth Institute for Health Policy and Clinical Practice
- First Navajo woman surgeon in the U.S.
- Author and lecturer

PrimeCare Physicians
Surgery

Lori Alvord, MD

Undergraduate School: Dartmouth College, Hanover, NH

Medical School: Stanford School of Medicine, Stanford, CA

Internship: Stanford University Hospital

Residency: Stanford University Hospital

Board Certification: American Board of Surgery

Excellence. Compassion. Respect.

9 Healthcare Drive, Suite 204
Biddeford, ME 04005
207-284-2630
smmc.org

Educated at Dartmouth College and trained at Stanford University, Lori Alvord, MD, is renowned for her surgical skills and compassionate care and is the subject of The Scalpel and the Silver Bear, a book about her remarkable journey from the Navajo reservation to the operating rooms of some of the nation's leading hospitals. She is the first Navajo woman surgeon in the U.S. Now she has come to SMMC.

Dr. Alvord merges the latest medical care with personal cultural beliefs of balance and symmetry, respect and connectedness, to aid patients on their path to recovery and wellness. Dr. Alvord blends leading surgical techniques with complementary treatments, such as acupuncture and mindfulness meditation, to offer her patients a full spectrum of innovative and personalized care.

Dr. Alvord is accepting new patients. To learn more, visit smmc.org or call 207-284-2630.

